San Antonio Regional Hospital Receives Three 2025 Women's Choice Awards as one of America's Best Hospitals

Upland, CA, December 15, 2025 – San Antonio Regional Hospital has been recognized as one of America's Best Hospitals by the Women's Choice Award®. This award signifies that San Antonio Regional Hospital is one of the top healthcare providers in the country based on a review of almost 5,000 hospitals. San Antonio Regional Hospital was recognized in the following areas: Heart Care, Emergency Care and Cancer Care.

The Women's Choice Award is the only distinction that identifies the nation's best health care institutions based on robust criteria that considers patient satisfaction, clinical excellence, relevant accreditations and women's preferences when it comes to treatment and a quality hospital experience. Additionally, each service line award has supplementary criteria that are specific to the service line. The methodology is 100% objective, replicable and uniform. Only the Top 13% of hospitals in the nation qualified for a 2025 award. For a full list of award methodology, visit Women's Choice Award methodology page.

San Antonio Regional Hospital has earned the Best Hospitals for Heart Care by offering a minimum number of cardiac and/or vascular services. Only hospitals that perform well clinically with regard to heart care measures of mortality and readmission reported to Medicare, and also have a high Hospital Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (HCAHPS) recommendation score, a measure that is very important to women in choosing a hospital, are selected. San Antonio Regional Hospital ranked in the top 1% percent for Heart Care in the nation.

San Antonio Regional Hospital earned the Best Hospital for Emergency Care Award by having an above average patient recommendation rate and consistently ranking in the top 25-50 percent of the hospitals reporting on their emergency department's performance to CMS. The five measures CMS publicly reports relate primarily to the amount of time taken in the ER such as time spent in the ER, time to admission, percentage of patients who leave before being seen, timely care for stroke symptoms, and adherence to quality bundled care for sepsis, and are weighted according to the priorities of women surveyed. San Antonio Regional Hospital ranked in the top 10% percent for Emergency Care in the nation.

San Antonio Regional Hospital has earned the Best Hospital for Cancer Care award because it met the comprehensive cancer care standards of the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer, as well as achieving excellence in clinical performance with regard to cancer care measures and for their high patient recommendation rate. It also provides comprehensive care with a full range of diagnostic and treatment services.

Delia Passi, Founder and CEO of the Women's Choice Award, emphasized that San Antonio Regional Hospital truly delivers on the care that matters most to women, who make over 90% of healthcare decisions. "Being treated with the proper level of care impacts your health, well-being and healing so all of our methodologies take into account the hospital's patient recommendation rating along with a strong clinical performance," added Passi. "By letting women know which hospitals in their area are among the best, we are able to reduce risk by helping them make better decisions and smarter health care choices."

"Women are intimately involved in medical treatment for their families and are on the front lines so to speak when interacting and seeking care from healthcare providers," said John Chapman, President & CEO of San Antonio Regional Hospital. "To receive their endorsement and high satisfaction ratings, along with meeting the clinical excellence methodology of the Women's Choice Awards, is exceptional. We are proud to receive these awards again for 2025."
